A champion of coastal enforcement passes

Warden Frank Dickerson

By Jack King

Frank Dickerson was successful and happy as a Texas Parks & Wildlife Regional Supervisor in the Texas Hill Country. But in 1975, enforcement problems on the Texas coast were escalating, and Law Enforcement Director Henry Burkett wanted a strong leader for newly created Region 10. Frank and wife Faye were reluctant to move, but he accepted the challenge, and was an enforcement leader on the coast until he retired in 1993.

Frank Dickerson’s tenure saw exceptional changes, especially in coastal conservation. The illegal harvest of trout and redfish had become a serious issue. Frank was among the leaders who began a three-sided solution. They recognized the problem, devised a plan to defeat the problem and successfully implemented the plan to remove virtually all illegal netting from Texas waters by 1985.

The three sides were private fishermen (after GCCA was formed in 1977); TPWD biologists (developing management plans to restore fish populations and reduce overfishing); and law enforcement (catching violators and picking up miles of illegal monofilament nets and trotlines.)

The three sides worked together to write new regulations and statutes, get them passed, and implemented stiffer penalties for illegal fishing and stricter bag limits. Illegal netting became mostly a thing of the past by 1985.

During his tenure, he was recognized and honored by GCCA for his leadership in dealing with illegal netting and harvest of redfish and speckled trout on the lower Texas Coast. Frank was named Game Warden of the Year, Game Warden of the Decade and then after he had retired, Game Warden of the Century.

Frank was also honored by Sportsmen Conservationist of Texas (SCOT) as Law Enforcement Officer of the year for his leadership in the fight against illegal commercial fishing and illegal harvest of redfish and trout.

There are anecdotes about that crucial stretch of Texas coastal history, and Frank took part in many of them. One day, several wardens had confiscated a large series of mono nets. We were removing a huge pile of trout from the nets in our coastal building, prior to donating the fillets to charitable organizations. A car pulled up outside, with netters yelling obscenities. One of my favorite memories of service on the coast was watching as Frank Dickerson reached into the back window of that car and grabbed a netter. It was probably good for both Frank and the netter that the car pulled away, the netter still inside.

On the cover of an early Tide magazine is a photo by Larry Bozka of a huge pile of burning nets, Dickerson in the foreground. The photo caused problems, but Frank shrugged it off. Frank succeeded in bringing a lot of technical muscle to the program. Just a few notable items: Two radar trucks in 1977 to observe illegal fisherman at night from the shores of the Laguna Madre. Use of Pumpkin Air helicopters to patrol the Texas lower coast. It was like picking up Easter eggs when we saw bundles of nets hidden in the water and on the King Ranch shoreline from the helicopter. Pumpkin Air helicopters were painted bright orange and illegal fishermen started to call it the “Orange Crush.” We would leave an empty can of Orange Crush when we picked up stashed illegal net, so the netters would know we had been there.

Frank managed to bring 65 patrol boats to the lower Texas coast so that, besides patrolling the Gulf for illegal shrimping, they could be used as bases of operation in the bays to allow for long-term operations.

For a time, Paul Wimberly’s Laguna Madre cabi, “The Church” was used as a base of operations by wardens. The locale of the cabin was right in the middle of illegal netting operations. One night, the cabin was mysteriously burned to the waterline.

Wimberly said it was a turning point, the worst mistake the illegal netters could have made. After that, Wimberly said, the gloves came off. Dickerson worked with the GCCA to rebuild “The Church,” which continued to provide an important base of operations for coastal wardens.

It is the good fortune of coastal resources and Texas conservationists, as well as Texas Game Wardens that Frank got the message from Mr. Burkett in 1975 and moved to Corpus Christi. This was such an exceptional 10-year period for conservation, where we saw all the parties come together, work together, identify the problem, eliminate the problem and then, see the resource recover.

Live Catch Tourney benefits Sea Center Texas, Women’s Resource Center

On October 6 and 7, Texas Lures & Leaders, a charity fishing tournament benefitted The Women’s Resource Center of Houston, Camp for All and Sea Center Texas. This annual charity event was co-founded by Lisa Hankamer (CBRE) and Leigh Anne Ahr (Proximity Real Estate Advisors). The event is an invitational made up, for the most part, from businesses and persons in the commercial real estate arena. I had the distinct honor to be a co-director and emcee. Festivities began at Harborwalk Marina and Yacht Club on the evening of October 6 with registration, raffle, dinner and a live auction. On the morning of October 7, 24 teams, all with a guide on board, took to the waters of Galveston Bay for a day of fishing and competing for bragging rights for the next 12 months.

21.95 lbs, besting the rest of the field by almost 6.5 lbs. In 2nd place was Team Fish n Chicks, once again all ladies, and Capt. Craig Lambert with a respectable 15.69 lbs. In third place was team Hayworth and Capt. Jimmy Trahan with a nice stringer of 14.85 lbs. All proceeds from this event went to The Women’s Resource of Houston, Camp for All, and Sea Center Texas. A special thanks to Sam Caldwell for his artwork donations and to Harborwalk Marina and Yacht Club for hosting the event. Also, would like to thank the rest of the sponsors, for without them, this event would not be possible. Everyone had a great time and we are already making plans for next year. Until then…Tightlines! —Capt. Lynn Waddell bait-ball feeding frenzies, and all sort of floating debris. Other interesting trips would have to include over-nighters on open targets. That generates the most interest. Those unseen fish are what keeps me going back. Besides the fish caught, there are so many other experiences. We’ve come across a whale shark, manta rays, huge hammerheads, you. But, in the great scheme of things, I’m at least even on pulling boats in over the years!

I still don’t know much about out-boards motors, but I do know how to use a radio. I’ve had to call the Coast Guard when I locked up an engine, and learned that they can hear a pin drop when no one else can. I’m now on my third motor and second trailer. Maintenance was a learning experience as well. I used a good compass when I first started fishing, followed by a Loran, and later by GPS. I still smile when I punch in those waypoints and remember the ‘old days.’ Our fishing changed from surface targets to submerged targets. That taught me some skills in negotiating submerged rocks and wrecks, and how to anchor on them. Sometimes, I even got my anchor back!

Over the years, we’ve caught our share of red snapper, kingfish, ling, dorado, mangrove snapper, and a few grouper. Farther out, we have caught wahoo, a sailfish, a tarpon, and blackfin tuna. Of course, there is also the category of ‘hooked, but not caught’ fish, which still generates the most interest. Those unseen fish are what keeps me going back. Besides the fish caught, there are so many other experiences. We’ve come across a whale shark, manta rays, huge hammerheads,

An early STAR winner from the Brush Country chapter remembers 20 years with a STAR Tournament boat

Wet Willy
By Blaine Wise

I
In 1991, I was lucky enough to win the king fish category in the STAR Tournament. I suddenly became the owner of a 20’ SeaRay Laguna offshore boat, a 175-hp Mercury motor, and a new Wilson trailer. I am happy to say that I am a new offshore boat, a 175-hp Mercury motor, and other new guys on the water. Those letters are still there after 20 years!

While I’ve had my share of bad luck, I’ve had far more good luck. The worst thing I remember was someone getting a hook impaled in a hand, along with some bad cases of seasick-ness. But, if it could happen, I’ve done it. I left the plug out twice while launching, but only once did it make for an exciting trip. We ran 18 miles from the jetties, anchored, and fished until I noticed my transom was getting close to the water line. I picked up the stern hatch to find my bat-erry a foot under water. The motor started, how-line. I picked up the stern hatch to find my bat-ticed my transom was getting close to the water from the jetties, anchored, and fished until I noticed my transom was getting close to the water line. I picked up the stern hatch to find my battery a foot under water. The motor started, however, and we took off running as best we could to help run the water out.

My first motor problem occurred when I was 37 miles from the jetties. I lost both power packs, but Fred Hornsby pulled me all the way to the harbor. That trip taught me the value of car-

Wet Willy, one of the first STAR boats on the way with Blaine Wise and crew.
2011 a successful year for habitat restoration and creation in Texas

By John Blaha

CCA Texas enjoyed a successful year once again in 2011. The continued efforts of local chapter volunteers and the many grass roots supporters and sponsors across the state continue to be the driving force behind the most successful marine conservation organization of its kind. 2011 provided several success stories for the organization in terms of net fundraising, membership increase, habitat restoration and creation, research, education and chapter development across the state.

CCA Texas's habitat program, Habitat Today for Fish Tomorrow (HTFT), continued to play a major role in the restoration and creation of habitat that will benefit Texas's coastal resources and recreational anglers across the state. Once again, these efforts are a direct result of local chapter efforts and a growing campaign to create partnerships with local communities, industry, academia, like organizations, governmental agencies and foundations with the same vision to restore and create critical habitat along the entire Texas coast. A summary of completed and ongoing habitat restoration projects that HTFT took part in during 2011 include:

- Port Mansfield Nearshore Reefing Project – CCA Texas partnered with TPWD and Alamo Concrete products to deploy in excess of 4,000 concrete culverts to the Port Mansfield nearshore reefing site. CCA Texas contributed $50,000 to the project. This project was completed at the end of August by the contractor, Cajun Maritime, and according to local CCA members and board members it is already yielding nice catches of snapper and other nearshore species.
- Matagorda Nearshore Reefing Project – This will be the third nearshore reefing project that HTFT has participated in with TPWD. As of May 2011 all permits and sub-surface leases are in hand and a late spring 2012 deployment is currently being planned for the first set of reefing materials to this site. CCA Texas currently has $115,000 committed to this project and is actively seeking more funds for the project to assist Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's (TPWD) Artificial Reefing Program.
- JD Murphee WMA Shoreline Stabilization Project – CCA Texas partnered with Texas Ducks Unlimited by contributing $50,000 for matching funds. These funds in turn yielded in excess of $400,000 in matching funds that will be used with Coastal Impact Assistance Program (CIAP) dollars, bringing the total to approximately $1,000,000.
- These funds will be used to restore and protect over 3,000 acres of fresh and saltwater wetlands along ICW within the JD Murphee Wildlife Management area. Work should begin in the first quarter of 2012.
- Bird Island Cove Marsh Restoration – This project will restore 52 acres of marsh in West Galveston Bay. CCA Texas has committed $50,000 to this project to be used as matching funds for a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service National Coastal Wetland Grants Program. Work is expected to begin in 2012 for this restoration effort led by TPWD.
- Goose Island Marsh Restoration Phase III – This is the final stage of an ongoing marsh restoration project that once completed will have restored 24 acres of lost marsh. The project continues to move forward, and HTFT has committed $25,000 to the project. The continued drought has currently placed the project on hold until sufficient rain and fresh water return for successful marsh grass plantings.
- Dickinson Bayou Marsh Restoration – This project will restore 10 acres of marsh and the subsequent protection of over 40 acres of wetlands in the lower end of Dickinson Bayou. CCA Texas has committed $25,000 to this project to be used as matching funds for a U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service National Coastal Wetland Grants Program. Work is expected to begin in 2012 for this restoration effort.
- Sabine Lake Deep Reef Expansion and Research – HTFT contributed $15,000 to a 10 acre reef expansion to the Sabine Lake Deep reef that will also include research and monitoring component for creating baseline data to this unique reef system.
- Aransas Pass Marine Debris Cleanup – HTFT partnered with Coastal Bend Estuaries and Estuaries Program (CBBEP) and Texas General Land Office (TGLO) to facilitate a marine debris cleanup in along Airport Park in Aransas Pass. This project cleaned up residual debris from a larger cleanup project and involved the hand picking a materials from the area. CCA Texas contributed $5,600 to the $11,200 project.
- Nueces Bay Delta Water Management System – HTFT has partnered with CBBEP to install a water management system that will keep important fresh water in the Nueces Bay delta. The Nueces River bypasses the historic delta and currently water is required to be pumped into the delta to satisfy fresh water needs throughout the year. Many times the water will back up in to the river and this project will insure that it stays and passes through the delta.
- CCA Texas Executive Board recently approved $70,000 in matching funds that will help complete this $280,000 project.

CCA Texas looks forward to another successful year in 2012 and will continue its work to ensure the health and abundance of Texas coastal resources. On behalf the staff and leadership at CCA Texas we would like to thank all of our volunteers, members, supporters and sponsors for another year of success and many tight lines in 2012. We wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Upper Coast
By Capt. Robert Sloan & Capt. George Knighten

The Upper Coast is a diverse region, deserts two winter forecasts.

Timing, timing, timing both guides say.

Sloan: Timing is the name of the game during December and January. Some of the best fishing will be just prior to a front’s arrival and a couple of days after it moves offshore.

Starting at the Eastern tip of the Texas coast, on Sabine Lake, look for good trout and redfish action, but let the sun warm things up. Just prior to a front, fish Sabine Pass in Lighthouse Cove for big reds. Rig up with 5-inch Wedgetail Mullets on 7/0 hooks. Go to slow sinkers, over shallow shell reefs and in the guts between the reefs.

East Matagorda Bay—guide Charlie Paradoski says he’ll either be drift fishing on mid-bay reefs with soft plastics or wading reefs in 3 to 5 feet of water. “The best lures for drift fishing the reefs will be soft plastics,” says Paradoski, with slow sinking mullet imitation lures for heavier trout while wading. He recommends a MirroLure 52 series in orange/black/gold or chartreuse/gold.

For Sabine and surrounding waters during the day, stay at Casa de Pescador Lodge, the only full service lodge on the lake. —Capt. Robert Sloan / 409-782-6796 sloan288@aol.com, or www.hightrailangler.com.

Knighten: Timing— between cold fronts and after things settle out winter fishing can be as good as any other time of year. Fish instinctively move to deep-water dropoffs and areas that have a mixture of shell and mud. In Galveston Bay that will be areas like Scotts and Burnet Bays or the Greens Cut area close to the ICW in West Bay. In really cold weather, they retreat to the deepest water they can find, like the blue hole in Offatts Bayou or the hole in Moses Lake.

With most of the shrimp gone from the bays and very little bird action, slicks are the biggest give away that there are fish feeding in the area. And, mud boils made by bottom-rooting redfish. Bait fish will be looking for the cover of the off-colored water and the game fish will follow. Of course, bait is an essential piece of the puzzle, and even one jumping mullet will have me checking out an area.

Go slowwww. If drifting, slow your retrieve and go to a lighter weight. A slow-falling lure close to the bottom is often the ticket to success. If wading, I like to fish a slow-sinking mullet imitation lure like the Corky or a Mirro-lure, but that being said, don’t overlook a slow-twitched top water for enticing a big trout into a strike. Sounds like a broken record for fishing for this time of year but these patterns and techniques have proven successful year after year and this year will be no different. — Capt. George Knighten www.knightengalvestonfishing.com 832-310-9146

Middle Coast
By Capt. Levi Price

Tactical angling for the coastal bend

As this change from fall to winter bears down upon us, you will see many changes in both weather and fishing patterns. Northerly winds and low tides will find myself and my clients wading the soft mud and shell mixed bottom areas near deeper waters. Soft plastics in watermelon seed or strawberry chartreuse rigged on an 1/8th ounce screw-lock jighead will be my lure of choice for this type of slow wading, where you need to probe every inch of the water column.

With water temperatures dropping, baitfish will be stacked thick in areas that are only 1 to 2 degrees warmer than the rest of your fishing zone. This should be a dinner bell for you as well as the fish, as redfish and trout will be following those concentrated, slow-moving schools of bait. Keeping your eyes and ears open for feeding activity is very important for success, as the angler who uses all his abilities will be the hero of the day back at the dock.

Between seasonal fronts, you will have beautiful, sunny days with low tides that will offer excellent sight casting opportunities on shallow grass flats. A calculated cast placed just beyond the fish and retrieved in a natural presentation, will bring a strike from a hungry predator.

A successful angler is also a creative angler, as he uses all of his senses to evaluate conditions on the specific day he is fishing. It’s ever changing. Fishing is not always catching, but careful planning will optimize your success.

And, if you haven’t enjoyed the hard work of helping Capt. Billy Sandifer and Crew clean the Padre Island Beach, here’s your chance to participate in one of the classic Texas coastal events. It’ll be February 25. Tight lines. — Captain Levi Price www.thefishtx.com

Lower Coast
By Capt. Rene Hinojosa

Tough fishing, but quality fish for quality fishers

December priority—big reds will still be in the bay. There will be concentrations of fish, so watch for telltale ‘nervous baits’ and vees made by bigger fish. I expect lower than normal tides, so watch for deep guts and small holes whether you’re looking and drifting, or wading.

My Old Reliable, Go To lure is the Norton sand eel. The Bull Minnow will also pay off, but go slow on the retrieve with either one. As the temps go down, I guess the bigger fish tend to look for easy targets that require less energy expenditure. Whether reds or trout, deep or shallow, you’ll need to give that big one a chance to ease up on your lure.

Depending on weather, be ready to tie on a topwater of the loud flavor, and again, work ‘em slowwww.

Mid-to Late January, stealth wading (or drifting) for trophy trout, you will look for the bogguest mud bottoms you can find. The fish like the warmth, I guess. May not be easy to detect those regions, but you can gain an advantage by concentrating on the shorelines and areas you found in December where there are plenty of deep guts and small holes, which means working those long stretches of spoil dumps and Intracoastal canal shallow shorelines. Wadefishing this time of year may not be the most comfortable nor productive, but here’s your chance to visit with that speckled trout of a lifetime.

If the big one is there—or not—you will still enjoy one of the finest times of the year in the Texas outdoors. Remember that Texas weather can change, so be prepared. Be considerate of your fellow fishermen—and the fish! I hope to see you at the Third Annual Port Mansfield Cut & Cleanup sponsored by Miller and Kathie Bassler, on ??????????????? — Capt Rene Hinojosa Jr. / 956-347-3534 rhjcharters@aol.com

The Austin chapter held its 2011 officer elections September 27. Congratulations to the following individuals and sincere thanks as well. We’re excited to go forward and continue our growth and fulfill the CCA Mission that’s near and dear to all of us.

President: Scott Sanderson / Vice President: Ryan Joyce / Treasurer: Neal Kieschnik / Secretary: Dennis Blaine / Membership Chairman: Dan Appling / Communications Chairman: Bill Stieber / Junior Board Chairman: Dan Appling / Banquet Chairman: Ryan Joyce / Banquet Co-Chairman: Josh Cook / Banquet Co-Chairman: Ryan Kasten / Banquet Co-Chairman: Neal Meinder / Sponsorship Chairman: Scott McGuire

As a very important footnote, on behalf of the entire Austin board, I’d like to extend a very special thank you to Scott McGuire, who served as our leader and President for the last six years. Scott’s dedication to CCA and tireless efforts guided the Austin chapter to unprecedented growth during his tenure and the Austin chapter will forever owe him a debt of gratitude. But, though his title may have changed, Scott hasn’t gone anywhere—he has accepted the position of Sponsorship Chairman. Sponsorships are vital to Austin, and our banquet, and we’re delighted he has agreed to continue to serve in that capacity.

By the time you read this, hopefully you joined us for Anglers’ Night Out (general membership meeting) November 16 at Abel’s on the Lake. Ken Milam, of stripper fishing and radio fame, was our guest speaker and was, I’m sure, enjoyed by all. Anglers’ Night Out is every other month on the third Wednesday (July, September, November, January and March- we skip May as that’s when we have our banquet) so mark your calendars now.

We have a fantastic venue at Abel’s overlooking Lake Austin and always have a super-interesting guest speaker. These are FREE, you will get a free meal courtesy of Smokey Denmark, and we always have prizes and giveaways from Yeti, American Rodsmiths, Smokey Denmark just to name a few. They are a whole lot of fun and we encourage you to BRING A FRIEND-the more the merrier! Ladies and children are welcome and non-CCA members too. Bring them and ask them to join CCA. And come join us for a land-locked Anglers’ Night Out!

Did you know that Austin has a Junior Board? We recognize that the generations behind us are the future of CCA, and our coastal resources, and welcome any youngster age 13-18 to get involved with this great group of kids. They hold their own meetings, work on projects, and assist the Austin board in various ways. These young men and women gain valuable experience working on a board and have another accomplishment to add to their resume as they move forward towards college and into their careers. Contact Dan Appling, Junior Board Chairman, dappling@development2000.com, Joseph Sanderson, Junior Board President, at joemac224@yahoo.com, or Sam Appling, Junior Board Vice-President, at smappling@gmail.com for information.

Save the Date! Save the Date! The Austin banquet will be May 10, 2012, once again at the Palmer Events Center. A bunch of dedicated volunteers are hard at work on it already and promise you another event that has no peer in Austin! Also, as I write this, the Austin board is in the process of finalizing the selection of our 2012 Banquet Boat. It is sure to be another eye-popper so look for your chance to buy a raffle ticket to win the boat of your dreams soon.

Finally, WE WANT YOUR HELP! CCA Austin is always looking for volunteers that are willing to help us carry out the CCA Mission. If you have an hour a year, or an hour a week, that you can help-please let me know. No contribution is too small. You’ll meet a lot of great, like minded fishermen/women, and have a whole lot of fun-all the while helping raise money for CCA. Warmest wishes for a safe and Happy Holiday season! —Scott Sanderson

We’ve kicked off the fall Dallas CCA Chapter meetings with a good head of steam. We recently met at Tailwaters Fly Fishing Company in September for our annual fall kick-off meeting. We met with a fair turnout but most importantly, new faces were present at the meeting.

Our next get together was at the Tailwaters sponsored, Drake Fly Fishing Film Tour at the Magnolia Theater. The folks at Tailwaters graciously allowed our chapter to host a table at the event to encourage our membership and prospective members to become more involved with our chapter. Great big thanks to David Leake, Brent Boone and all the staff at Tailwaters for their generosity to our chapter!

With the help of our fantastic board, we will begin the arduous process of planning our 2012 Dallas CCA Banquet and benefit auction to be held Thursday, April 26 2012 at the Frontiers of Flight Museum at Dallas Love Field. We need your help to make the banquet as successful as all the banquets in years past.

Thanks for your continued support and if you have yet to become involved with your chapter, I encourage you to join in! We need all hands on deck for the upcoming auction! Our next general membership meeting will be scheduled in late January. Stay tuned into our web page (www.dallascca.org) and follow us on Facebook (DallasCCA) to receive the latest updates. Weather has definitely been the topic of discussion on everyone’s mind this year. I think it is the strangest year I have ever seen in the whole state. The drought is behind it all. More than 2 inches. We are out on boas: nausea, dizziness, sore throat, etc.

We are experiencing our first good cold front yesterday (October 27th), 2 inches. We are definitely working, and there are reports of nice trout being caught in both bay systems. As we wrap up 2011 with our last currents article of the year, we reflect back to the continued growth CCA Texas and our chapter has seen. We want to thank all our Sponsorship for 2011 and look forward to having you back in 2012.

The good news is that the fishing has been great on Sabine and Galveston Bay. Birds are definitely working, and there are reports of nice trout being caught in both bay systems. If you want to stay up to date with the red tide, go to TPWD website or CCA’s website, and there is good info there.

If you are ever in the Houston Galleria area, stop by CCA’s office and check out the television in the lobby. There is a High Definition live feed from an offshore well in Louisiana, with live video of the action below at a depth of 32 feet. Very cool! TV donated by the O’Donovan family. GMM (General Membership Meeting) - October 26 with Capt. Jesse Arsola. Well, you can say we finished off our year with a bang! We had the largest turnout we’ve ever had in 2011 with 49 people in attendance, with a lot of new faces in the crowd. We held our meeting at our local Rico’s Mexican Grill and enjoyed some great food and drinks with Capt. Jesse Arsola, our guest speaker of the night. He gave us some good advice on where to fish, how to fish, and what lures to use.

Of course most guest speakers talk about these things, but we had a lot of questions for Jesse and could have stayed around all night being captivated by his good advice and many years of fishing knowledge. We ended our meeting with some fabulous raffle prizes, which included a two-night stay at a lodge in Rockport, a full day of fishing with Jesse Arsola, and some fishing bags with insulated CCA cups. We’re looking forward to an even bigger crowd at our next General Membership meeting which will be held in January/February 2012. See you all there!

2012 - What will be on tap for the New Year? First and foremost we need your participation in our chapter. Please contact any of the board members on our website http://www.ccatexas.org/greater-woodlands/ or contact Jimmy Pape at the number above to get involved. We will take any and all volunteer assistance available.

Here are the events planned, to be scheduled for 2012: (1) Kidsfish, (2) Fishing Trip for CCA Texas GWC members and Friends, (3) Annual Banquet (July 2012) (4) Fundraiser II in the form of a Fish Fry (or) Crawfish Boil (April 2012), (5) General Membership Meetings, (6) and more as they develop throughout the year. The Hill Country Chapter set it’s ‘sites’ on hunting the October meeting. We had a TPW Game Warden speak and four vendors set up for the meeting. It was very informative and everyone had a good time.

One of the things the game warden brought up is that all kids who will be driving a boat will need to take a boating course. Anyone born after 9/1/93 that operates PWC over 15hp or over must take a boating safety course. We also raffled a trip for two to the Circle B Ranch in Rocksprings. A special thanks to Clay Sultemeier for setting it up and guiding the trip, and to the Blackman family for the trip!

We had a special guest, Ben Koehler who took first place in the STAR teen mid coast division with a 7lb 5oz, 29.25” trout. Ben told his story of landing the big trout without a net in the boat! Congratulations Ben! Good team work, Dad!

The Hill Country Chapter has a lot of family participation and we always like hearing a good, or ‘first time’ story. If you have one, come to our meeting and share it with us! Our next meeting will be in the spring of 1012. We’ll let you know as soon as we have a date. The feedback we’ve gotten from our members is that they would like a Fall tournament as well, so we will work on that, too! Be safe! Happy Holidays! And God Bless till we meet again! — Darlene Cook

The Redfish Bay Chapter Board wishes all members and their families a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! We hope your holiday season and the following year are filled with success and happiness.

It is time to mark your new 2012 calendars for our upcoming events. The Annual Banquet is scheduled for April 28, 2012, and it will be in the Port Aransas Civic Center.

The annual “Take a Kid Fishing” event will be held the first weekend of June at Woody’s Sports Center in Port Aransas. The Beeville Fish Fry will be held in September, the Thursday evening before dove season starts - place is still to be determined. Thank you for a great 2011, and we look forward to a great 2012.

Rio Grande Valley
Matt Klosterman 956-642-7965
Here in the Rio Grande Valley we are starting to see a change in our temperature along with a change in wind direction. For us fisherman the opening of deer season means a little less traffic on the bays. The summer fishing was excellent in the Lower Laguna Madre and should continue through the fall and into winter.

We did have a brief run in with red tide but the past few cold fronts seem to have blown it back out into the Gulf and with the decrease in water temperature, there is also a decrease in the algae bloom.

The RGV Chapter will begin to organize our 32nd Annual Banquet in the next few months. The chapter is always looking for fresh faces to help so if you are interested in helping the RGV Chapter feel free to give me a call at 956-642-7965 to join. We meet at the Best Western Palm Aire in Weslaco.

We are busy selling raffle tickets for our 21ft Explorer Flats boat with motor and trailer. The RGV Chapter would like to thank L& F Distributers for sponsoring the boat again this year. — Matt Klosterman

What a difference a couple of fronts can make! Mother Nature has flipped the switch and the fishing on Sabine Lake is fantastic! While looking at the calendar I also noticed that we are 4 months away from the 2012 Sabine Neches Banquet! If you are wanting to be a part of the action on March 1st 2012 call or email me and we will take care of you! We have also set up a General Membership meeting to be held in January 2012, 6pm at Dylan’s in Port Arthur, stay tuned for further details! This is all I have for now, time to get outside and enjoy this great weather! Happy Holidays Everyone! — Darin M. Johnson 409-790-9855

We had Bill Kinney, director of the STAR tournament come out on October 12 at the Quarry Golf Club to talk about the STAR and what’s going on in CCA Texas. Bill has a wealth of knowledge that he graciously shared with us. The meeting was opened with a talk about Rockport Rattlers by Charles Sablatura. If you haven’t tried the Rockport Rattler, you owe it to yourself to do so. (And they make great stocking stuffers!) Each talk was followed by a Q & A session.

Thank you Bill and Charles for a wonderfully informative and entertaining evening! We ended the meeting with door prizes for just about everyone. I would also like to thank Lisa Bruce, David Barrera and Robert...
Lozano, our dedicated volunteers as well as the Quarry Golf Club for taking care of all of us.

It is hard to believe another Thanksgiving has come and gone and we are looking at the end of the year again. Before you know it we will be starting up our banquet committee meetings in January. If you would like to participate we would love to have you. I will be posting the times and dates on the San Antonio page of the CCA Texas website (ccatexas.org) and on our Facebook page, CCA Texas, San Antonio Chapter. Check us out and “like” us!

It has been my pleasure and honor to serve as president of the San Antonio chapter for the past two years. I would like to welcome our new president, Johnny Rayburg! Happy New Year and stay salty my friends! —Liz Hewitt casanantonio@yahoo.com

On October 8, we hosted the Sunshine Kids Tournament. We had a total of 18 children and their families present for this event. Our 18 boat captains and deck hands did a superb job assisting the children and their families. The children caught specs, reds, whities, drums, catfish and flounder; they all received trophies. The families enjoyed eating hamburgers, hotdogs, chips, cookies and sodas. A big huge thank you to all the parents, captains and deckhands for a spectacular day! Thank you also to BJ and Jocelyn for allowing us to be a part of the Sunshine Kids. —Pete Ruiz
